—There were two No. 2's to St. Louis yesterday forenoon, this being made necessary by the train from the south arriving more than an hour late.
—Marshal Shy has one good thing in his favor. All the police are strongly in favor of his re-election. They say he is the best marshal Sedalia has ever had.
—Married, at the residence of the bride's father, in Pettis county, on Wednesday, March 15, 1882, by Rider Weedon, of Green Ridge, Mr. Harrison Bennett and Miss Mollie Penney.

—A lively row took place, Friday night, at Golden's saloon, in East Sedalia. A BAZOO reporter visited the saloon, yesterday, but the alderman seemed indisposed to talk about the matter.

—A copy of the News, a very creditable little amateur sheet, published at Independence, Mo., by Messrs. St. Clair and Spencer, was exhibited to a BAZOO reporter yesterday by Mr. W. A. McMillen, of this city. May the infant thrive.

—The trial of William Kennedy, charged with stealing a saddle, will take place next Saturday.

—Ben Hudson was pulled in last evening for carrying a concealed weapon and being drunk. His trial comes up to-morrow.

—The cake donated to the Working Women's home, was raffled off yesterday afternoon. There were fifty chances at fifteen cents a chance, all of which were taken. Frank Dejanette was the lucky ticket holder.

—If the center of gravity is hollow, the hole yesterday was at Blair Bros. From the stacks of bundles, great big bundles, that you could see on every corner with printed on them Blair's Mastodon, it seemed as if all the clothing and hats came from there. They never fail to turn back.

—It is rumored that Will Carr, of the Knobnoster Gem, is soon to couple to a charming young lady of Sedalia. We extend our heartiest good wishes in advance, and hope that, though of course not in the least resembling a floor covering, the young lady may always be a Carr-pet. (Meet us in Sedalia Saturday night, Willie, and forgive us this atrocity.)—Windsor Review.

—A German lady on East Fifth street, who is very deaf, stopped a milk-man as he was passing the house the other day, and asked him how much he charged for a quart of milk, and then put up her ear-trumpet to catch the reply. He quickly drew a quart of milk and emptied it into the trumpet, and the result has been that he has to go three miles out of his way to keep out of sight of the lady's son, who sits on the porch with a shot gun waiting for him to pass.

—SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. For sale by all druggists.

Tim Dunnigan.

Tim Dunnigan was brought down from Kansas City last night, in charge of Deputy Sheriff Finch. He was met at the depot by his parents and several friends, and soon thereafter was released on a $200 bail bond. Many express the belief that he will escape with only a small fine.

—The Nebraska City (Neb.) Press says: St. Jacobs Oil strikes heavy blows for good all around, and its virtues for rheumatic pains are lauded upon every hand. Try it, all ye who suffer.

He Was Right.

Yesterday Officer Holland arrested one William Frank. The arrest caused some disturbance as the party arrested had many friends. When the arrest was made there was some opposition to it, but the officer did his duty and the prisoner was landed in the calaboose. Frank had a hearing before Recorder Fraker who fixed his bail at $100, which was satisfactorily given and Frank was released. The trial comes off to-morrow morning. Officer Holland has been subjected to severe criticism about this arrest, but upon a full investigation the BAZOO is satisfied that the officer did only his duty.

Not Here.

WARRENSBURG, Mo., March 18, 1882.

ANSWER.

The Indian doctor has left. His whereabouts are not known to the BAZOO. His shape has not been visible on the streets of Sedalia for many months.

Grateful to Invalids.

Floreston Cologne is grateful to invalids, because it is refreshing without the sickening effect of most perfumes.

Pardoned.

About the first of February, in Squire Webber's court, Emma Kaiser was convicted of larceny in a dwelling and sentenced to sixty days' imprisonment in the county jail, and, in addition, to pay the costs in the case, which would have made twelve days more.

At the time, she was suffering with a loathsome disease, and on the recommendation of Dr. Jones and Sheriff Conner, Gov. Crittenden granted her a pardon, and yesterday she was released. She came from Jefferson City, and to that point she was given a ticket and left yesterday morning.

At the Rink.

At the roller skating rink, yesterday afternoon, single and double bouquet holders were the prizes awarded to the best boy and girl skaters. The former was captured by Master Arthur Jacobs and the latter by Miss May Jaynes. The rink will be open during the present week, as usual.

—All the boys who bought piece goods and who want a stylish suit made, are taking them to Ed. Quilty, on Lamine street, between Second and Third. Ability will tell, you know.

JNO. W. CONNER.

As will be seen in the column of announcements in this issue of the BAZOO, John W. Conner, formerly the efficient deputy of the late Captain Ritchey, and now holding the office as the appointee of Governor Crittenden, is a candidate for nomination to the responsible office of recorder of Pettis county. In many respects Mr. Conner's qualifications for this office are superior to those of any person as yet offering himself for the position. He is thoroughly acquainted with the office, and with all its duties. His recollection of real estate transactions during the time he has been in the office is prodigious, and no inquirer fails of receiving any information desired. Mr. Conner is a most obliging official, is a gentleman and a man of excellent business qualifications. One strong point in his favor is the fact that no petition for appointment to the office was circulated by him before the late incumbent's death, and while that officer was still hopeful of recovery. His friends are legion, and there is a general feeling that he has much the strongest claims on the office of any candidate now in the field; and he will doubtless be nominated and elected by a large majority.

OVER THE ROAD.

The Former Prosecuting Attorney of St. Clair County Now a Convict.

An Interesting Chapter Regarding the Fall of a Once Prominent Man.

In the criminal court of St. Clair county a case was disposed of a few days ago that has attracted wide-spread attention, principally on account of the prominence of the accused.

In 1874 Jerome B. Jennings, then aged about twenty-four years, removed from Illinois, and settled at Taberville, in St. Clair county, where he opened a law office. As he was an entire stranger, only ill-luck attended him at first, but when the green-back craze swept over the county, in 1875, he was caught on the tidal wave and landed into the office of prosecuting attorney. There he proved the metal he was made of. His business increased to large proportions and he saw success and a competency in the near future. He married well, and a little child came to bless his home, but alas! he could not withstand the temptations that beset his path, and in an evil hour he fell. He took to drinking; at first only a social glass, but it was not long before he was a confirmed drunkard. Business forsook him and he sought more secluded quarters. He was removed from office while still allowed his salary. In his dire dilemma he accepted a bribe and sold forty-two law books belonging to the county. For this latter crime he was arrested, and for several months languished in the jail at Osceola, but at last gave bail and was released.

When the following term of court was at hand, instead of facing his accusers, he turned tail and ran away, and for several months was a fugitive from justice. At last he was apprehended at some little town in Kansas, where he was preaching the gospel, and recaptured and returned to the jail at Osceola.

All the lawyers in the county offered their services, but his guilt was so plain that the best they could do was to reduce the sentence to the shortest possible time. This they did, and with good conduct on his part he will be a free man again in eighteen months—his full sentence being only two years. Jennings is a young man yet. He has a good stock of legal learning and the ability to make his way in the world, and the BAZOO sincerely trusts that when his present sentence expires he will settle down in some locality and by his future record show that he atones for his past actions.

The experience of Jerome B. Jennings is certainly an interesting study for the young men of Sedalia, and, in fact, everywhere, and the BAZOO hopes that all who peruse this article may profit thereby.

He Ran Like Nimshi.

Friday afternoon, just as the K. & T. train pulled out, there was lots of sport afforded to the depot loungers by the frantic efforts of a "gray," somewhat the worse for liquor, who had been left. He was over in a neighboring saloon taking in another horn when the train pulled out. After it went pell mell, but failed to "catch on," though cheered by the crowd to do his utmost. Then he hired a carriage and was driven to the Fifth street depot, where he arrived in time to catch the train. His little episode caused quite a break in the usual monotony of the arrival and departure of trains at the depot.

They Will Build.

The Old School Presbyterian church of this city, propose to come to the front and do the Lord's work in a vigorous manner from this time forward. To this end they have secured the services of Rev. A. W. Nesbit, of Fulton, a young man of fine ability and unusual pulpit power. Mr. Nesbit is reported to be a very fine orator and a zealous worker.

The church owns a lot on Broadway, east of the public school building, and on it they propose to erect a handsome church, this coming summer. Mr. Nesbit will begin his labors about the middle of next month. The members of this church are very enthusiastic over his coming and propose to do all in their power to push forward to the interests of their church under his leadership.

The Game Spoiled.

On Friday evening, when the Pacific train reached here, two young men got off. This, of itself, not an unusual occurrence, but on this particular occasion these two young gentlemen tried to play a sharp game. They had bought tickets to Kansas City, but intended only to come as far as Sedalia. Upon arriving here they tried to sell the checks they had received from the conductor, but their little game was suddenly spoiled by the conductor taking the checks in hand. These checks were utterly valueless only to those who held them, and it was a good thing that Conductor Fitzgerald, who gave them, appeared in time to prevent their sale.

Rather Enthusiastic.

The Wilmington (Del.) Daily Republican contained the following item of popular interest: Dr. J. F. Speck, who is connected with the Wilmington Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it upon himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter, which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

A TRAMP'S REVENGE.

Dastardly Attempt to Wreck a K. & T. Train on Friday Evening.

The Scoundrel Taken in Charge by Conductor Jim Doyle and His Crew

And Carried Into Hannibal—What Led to the Perpetration of the Crime.

A dastardly attempt was made, Friday afternoon, to wreck a passenger train on the northern division of the K. & T., at a point eight miles this side of Hannibal, and it seems almost a miracle that it resulted without the loss of life.

Friday morning Conductor Tom Arnold put a tramp off his north-bound freight train, a few miles this side of Hannibal, and at the time the fellow gave it out solid that and in a substantial manner, too. Nothing was thought of the threat, however, at the time, but subsequent events proved that the tramp, whose name could not be learned, had not given utterance to the words merely as an idle boast.

Immediately on being ejected from the train, the scoundrel set about to secure his revenge. He could not wreak vengeance upon the conductor who had bounced him, so he determined the railway company should suffer for the conduct of its employee. With this object in view, he secured about twenty-five old ties, some of them badly decayed, and placed them in the center of the track, for the purpose of

WRECKING THE NORTH-BOUND PASSENGER TRAIN.

No. 152, which left here at 10:30 o'clock Friday morning, with Conductor Doyle in charge and Billy Willis at the throttle. He then retired to await the result of his diabolical deed, but it failed to "pan out" as he had anticipated.

Instead of Mr. Doyle's train being the first one to pass, it was a north-bound freight in charge of Conductor Welch, the engineer's name being unknown, and arrived at the spot at 2:30 o'clock p. m. The obstruction was discovered, the lever reversed, and brakes called for, but notwithstanding all this precaution, the iron horse could not be checked in time, and the ties were run into. Fortunately, the speed of the train had been greatly checked, and instead of the engine or cars being derailed, the ties were THROWN FROM THE TRACK.

Search was instituted for the perpetrator of the crime, but he had secreted himself, and the train pulled into Hannibal, when Conductor Welch reported by telegraph the circumstances to Superintendent Eddy. In this city, who immediately gave notice that a reward of $250 would be paid for the discovery and capture of the miscreant.

No sooner had the freight left the scene of disaster than the tramp emerged from his hiding place and again proceeded to pile up the ties as before, being determined that he would yet wreck the passenger train, and he came very nearly being successful.

A few minutes after four o'clock the passenger train was bowling along at

when Engineer Willis discovered ahead of him the piled up ties, at a place where there was quite a fill in the road. In an instant the air brakes were applied and the lever reversed, but still the train speeded on and the obstruction was encountered, the ties being scattered in all directions. The engine ran probably the length of seven or eight cars after striking the ties and then came to a standstill. Notwithstanding all was excitement, Willis had not failed to notice a man standing by the side of the track, and he at once surmised that it was he who was guilty of the act. He left his engine, and called back to Conductor Doyle and Baggage-master Bartlett to at the same time pointing him out. At first the fellow exhibited a spirit of bravado, saying he had twenty men secreted near by who would come to his assistance, but he soon wilted and appeared as docile as a lamb. Although interrogated as to his name and place of residence, he refused to divulge either, simply remarking that he was "a bad man from Jefferson City."

Among the train men and passengers the greatest indignation prevailed, and for a time it looked as though the demon would certainly be lynched. Wiser counsel prevailed, however, and he was placed in a coach and taken into Hannibal and locked up.

WILLIS' CONDUCT.

The conduct of Engineer Willis, who stood so manfully at his post on duty, is indeed commendable, and the BAZOO hopes he will come in for a good share of the reward.

From information received yesterday morning, a BAZOO reporter learned that the prisoner will not have a preliminary examination until to-morrow morning, as it is not known definitely whether the crime was committed in Marion or Ralls county.

Some of the K. & T. officials will leave this city this evening for Hannibal, and will see to it that justice is meted out to the would-be train wrecker.

—Prof. James A. Sewell, A. M., M. D., of MEDICAL FACULTY LAVAL UNIVERSITY, Quebec, states: I have found Golden's Liebig's Extract of Beef and Tonic Invigorator particularly useful in advanced stages of Consumption, weakness, dyspepsia, and all nervous affections. In pregnant women it has been retained while every other article of food was rejected. Palatable and easy of digestion. (Take no other.)

It is Found.
Some time ago Alderman Harrison gave it out that he had lost a watch. The ticker was described as a silver one, valued at some thirty dollars. The official set the police and detectives to work to ferret out the criminal, but without avail. Houses were searched for the missing timepiece, and every diligence possible was used to discover the watch.

Friday night the wife of the noble Second ward alderman left the front door of their residence open, knowing that her leige lord would put in an appearance some time before daylight. This proved a wise provision, as some one slipped in and put the missing watch on the bureau, where it was found yesterday morning by the sawed-off statesman of the Second ward. Thus is genius rewarded.

Kidney Disease Cured.
CHRISTIANSBURG, VA., 1881.
Suffering from kidney diseases, from which I could get no relief either from medicine or the prominent physicians of our country, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite, and did not seem to be able to eat at all; I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.

Felix' Condition.
Conductor Ben Blythe returned at 6 o'clock last night from Lamonte, where he learned that W. L. Felix' condition is much more favorable than at any time during the past week. He yesterday partook of food, and was able to converse with his attendants. The utmost caution is being taken, however, and visitors are refused admission to his room. The BAZOO hopes soon to announce his recovery of health.

Still Missing.
Jesse H. Lyon, the son of E. F. Lyon, who ran away from home last Thursday, has not yet been heard from. The father was in the city yesterday looking for his boy, but could hear nothing of him, except that he had been reading yellow-backed novels. The father's distress over his son's escapade is sorrowful to behold, and it is hoped that he will soon find the runaway boy.

Good for the Women.
Many ladies suffer from an extreme nervous, semi-hysterical condition. They have disturbing dreams, exciting muscular startings, peculiar painful symptoms of nightmare. They lie awake and suffer the brain to be tightly when that weary organ ought, according to nature, to be asleep. Brown's Iron Bitters gives sweet repose and quickly remove all such nervous disorders.—Home Physician.

Attempted Incendiarism.
About 1 o'clock yesterday morning a small frame house belonging to a colored man named John Wesley, situated two blocks north of the Catholic church, was discovered to be on fire by a lad named Willie Smith, who was on his way home from his work at Siders' hotel. He at once aroused the nearest neighbor, Henry Allen, and the flames were extinguished before any material damage had been done. In conversation with a BAZOO reporter, Mr. Allen said the fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as it had been started with a quantity of oil-soaked waste. No clue has been discovered to the perpetrator of the crime.

—Borden, Selleck & Co., St. Louis, sell the best and cheapest Car Starter made. With it one man can move a freight car.

Large Shipment of Silver.
Conductor Ed. Smith's train, No. 153, on the K. & T., brought into Sedalia, yesterday morning, 1,380 pounds of bar silver, valued at $20,486.78. It was shipped from Omaha, and was being taken to the United States mint at New Orleans. The express messengers handled it a little more carefully than they would have been pig iron when they transferred it to the east-bound train.
